Design Center
The Design Center at JCK is a must-see destination for all JCK buyers. It is the place to find the best designer jewelry from emerging talent and established jewelry artists.

One of my personal favorite stops on this area is to visit our Rising Stars. The Rising Stars are five industry designers who are making their North American trade show debut. We are excited to share this year’s Rising Stars, Blackbird and the Snow, Irthly Jewelled Adornments, Kaura Jewels, Natalie Dissel Jewelry, and Shrisha Jewels. Make sure to visit their booths and learn more about each designer’s personal design philosophy on page 8.

Don’t miss the Design Center Top 50 Retailer Awards on Sunday, June 1. This annual event is sponsored by Berkley Asset Protection, and celebrates the industry’s most innovative retailers for their excellence in merchandising, selling and display of designer jewelry—voted by the Design Center exhibitors.

I look forward to seeing you in the Design Center—preview the collections you’ll find on pages 16 – 42.

Warm regards,

Yancy Weinrich

The launch of Irthly Jewelled Adornments is a culmination of 25 years of jewelry experience, designer David Alvarado's philosophical background, and vision of the future of jewelry design. A Master’s education in Chinese and European philosophy incited Alvarado to design a line of jewelry representative of his worldview. The pillars of value and preciousness are being challenged. “Sustainability” is becoming a global value; “Interdependence” is becoming a global creed. For that reason, he believes that the notion of “precious” is undergoing a re-valuation. Alvarado focuses on being part of that process by introducing into precious jewelry, elements of the environment that play a crucial role in our world and are often overlooked or not taken as precious.

Natalie's design philosophy is simple – travel, absorb, and create. Her global travels have heavily influenced her inspiration of design and style. Both fashionable and elegantly timeless, Natalie's collections are originated from unusual minerals, raw material, diamonds; precious gems, and gold, precision crafted creating an individual voice and story.

Blackbird and the Snow is designed and owned by jewelry designer and recording artist Marie-Juliette Bird. Originally from the American West, Bird spent nearly a decade in London, working under the mentorship of master jeweler David Courts, creator of the original Keith Richards skull ring. While in London, she collected Victorian charms from antique markets; these charms now serve as the heart of inspiration for the line. BLACKBIRD AND THE SNOW launched it’s first collection on Black Friday, 2012. Since then, the line has been picked up by fine stores and discerning collectors, internationally.

Although she was born in the United Kingdom, raised in Canada, and now lives in Los Angeles, California, Harvinder Keila has always been deeply interested in her Indian heritage. As a child, she was dazzled by her grandfather’s accounts of 19th century punjab, which was experiencing a period of renaissance. Kaura Jewels was conceived in 2012 from Harvinder’s fascination with weaponry from this bygone era. Harvinder developed an ability to work with her hands as an environmental consultant. After completing a metalsmithing course in 2008, she began applying this skill to jewelry manufacture and never looked back.

Founded by Neha Dani, Shrisha is a house of designer jewellery in India that creates one of a kind exclusive sculpted jewellery pieces. The word ‘Shrisha’ is interpreted as the union with the divine, which is enamouring, complete, and eternal. This Divine is the guiding force and inspiration for the brand. Each sculpted jewel is to be appreciated not only for its magnificent stones, but for the inspiration of the artist, creating striking contemporary yet timeless masterpieces.
